PostYouth History Workshop New York The Youth History Workshop, presented by the New York chapter of the Organization of American Historians, presents a series of workshops for youth on the latest scholarship in American history. Workshops are held at the Center for Urban History on the first floor of the New York Public Library and are held on the first Saturday of the month from October through May. The workshops provide a forum for students in grades 9-12 to gain a basic understanding of various forms of historical writing and the techniques that are used to research and document the past.Q: How to display multiple error messages in a single view I have a view which has a checkbox control and a combobox control. I want to check if both checkbox and combobox has a value and if so, return a message. I was able to do so but only when the two controls have different values, e.g. checkbox value is 1 and the combobox value is 2 and vice-versa. How can I display a single message (with error style) if both the controls contain the same value? View I am binding with (which is working fine) File Upload Check Box
