I want to delete a list of data in the database, but I can't find a "deletelist" method in the documentation. From the query below, I'm only able to delete one map like so: let uid = Auth.auth().currentUser?.uid let ref = Database.database().reference().child("entries").child(uid!) ref.removeAllData() But I can't delete a list of the maps like so: let ids = ["data1", "data2"] for item in ids { let uid = Auth.auth().currentUser?.uid let ref = Database.database().reference().child("entries").child(uid!) ref.removeAllData() } Can anyone help me to fix this? A: As you can see in the official documentation The key is to not try to manipulate the list or any data that you read from it. Since removeAllData() is documented as removing all data from the path and all child paths under it, you are missing out on the updated structure. If you want to remove all data for entries at a particular path, you have to remove the entire object at that path, using removeValue So for your second code you can use this line of code Database.database().reference().child("entries").child(uid!) .child e79caf774b
